

Arizona State Chapter

April 6 to 9, three DU brothers put aside their homework and everyday pursuits to practice their Army trade for those days. Chris Curtiss '08, Matthew Ward '07, and Michael Wheat '09 traveled to Camp Navajo, near Flagstaff, Arizona, to partake in a new kind of ROTC exercise – a “joint” exercise. For the first time in nearly a decade, ASU ROTC joined the services from Northern Arizona University, the University of Arizona, and Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in a JFTX (Joint Field Training Exercise). All three DU brothers achieved high scores in both day and night land navigation across a mountainous and heavily wooded course. All three either received positive “spot” evaluations for exceptional displays of tactical or technical proficiency, or larger positive performance evaluations, indicating competence, dedication, and professionalism. This is what all have come to expect from the growing number of ROTC cadets who choose to follow the path espoused by Delta Upsilon.

Houston Chapter

The Houston Chapter in late March participated in Frontier Fiesta, a nationally recognized event which Life Magazine called the Greatest College Show on Earth. Frontier Fiesta is put on by the University and the city of Houston to showcase the University’s student organizations. The event is set in a constructed town called Fiesta City which is comprised of tents with fronts on them, built by participating student organizations. This Texas-style festival is part of a long-standing tradition at UH with Broadway-style variety shows, carnival booths, cultural and educational performances, living historical exhibits, concerts by nationally known recording artists, a world-class cook-off, and a scholarship competition. The Houston Chapter was very proud to have their own brother, Brian Sellen '06 (also Greek Man of the Year) serve as chairman of the

DePauw Chapter

Teach for America (TFA) has become one of the most popular options for new graduates, whether going into teaching as a career or a break before entering law school. A record 14 DePauw graduates plan to begin their TFA assignments this fall, including Delta Upsilon’s Charles W. Carpenter '06 and Wrede H. Smith '06.

Brother Smith, who will be teaching in St. Louis this fall, said he is interested in experiencing public policy first-hand. He said he will be better prepared for law school after two years with TFA. Brother Carpenter likewise is delaying his entry into law school, saying that he thinks that inequality in public education is our most pressing domestic issue: the “new injustice.”

Georgia Tech Chapter

For the second consecutive year the Georgia Tech Chapter has won the coveted human pyramid champion title during Greek Week. Every year fraternities on campus gather in the green space outside the student center to construct a 10-man human pyramid for as long as possible. This event, along with tug-o-war, is an event that is taken seriously and for which the men practice. The event kicked off and DU remained stable. All other fraternities fell except TKE and Delta Upsilon. DU remained in a stand off with them for at least five minutes and came out victorious.

Guelph Chapter

After the ending session of the 2006 RLS hosted by the Guelph Chapter for Province 2 in early-February, all the delegates were driven to the site of Guelph’s second annual Polar Bear Dip. Following exclamations of “Wow, you guys are nuts!” and some persuasion, all the delegates eventually got the courage to jump. Pictured are 26 DU Brothers who participated. There were nearly twice the number of jumpers as last year and over $3,000 was raised for the Heart & Stroke Foundation.

event, which required an extensive time commitment on his part to organize the three-day event. In addition to Brother Sellen’s participation in the event. Brother Rey Rodriguez '07 was awarded with a $1,000 scholarship and Brother Jeff Rocheleau '06 was named this year’s Mr. Fiesta for the second consecutive year, for raising over $2,500 for the fiesta scholarship fund.

The Houston Chapter this year teamed up with the ladies of Chi Omega to produce one of the many variety shows put on during the event. The variety show was a satirical performance poking fun at variety shows of the events of past years. The Houston Chapter along with the ladies of Chi Omega were very excited that their variety show was awarded the coveted Joe Koppel Award for overall first place. This year has been tremendously successful for the Houston Chapter as they also were awarded the IFC Service Award and the Outstanding Leadership Award.
